Restraints on Nixon Forecast

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Congress will act soon to "invoke some positive policy restraints" on President Nixon's conduct of the war in southeast Asia, Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., predicted Friday.

The restraints, he said, will include "delineating actions which cannot be funded in the future. We will reinforce the administration's assurances that that adventure in Cambodia will end very promptly," he said.

Mathias, who spoke Friday night at Washington University, called Nixon's sending U. S. troops into Cambodia "a model military tactic" which could produce divisive consequences both at home and at peace negotiations.

The military advisability of the action, he said, "is really not the most important aspect of it." Mathias recently cosponsored a Senate resolution to repeal the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution.

Bond Set for Truck Snipers

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) —Bond was set Friday at $50,000 each for two men charged with attempted murder in the sniper shootings of three truck drivers Tuesday near Highland, Ill.

Charged in warrants issued by the Madison County state's attorney's office were Jerry Lambert, 31, of Caseyville, Ill., who was arrested shortly before midnight Thursday, and Jackson Wolford, 29, of Granite City, who was arrested about noon Friday.

Madison County sheriff's officers said three drivers were wounded by sniper fire from an overpass on Interstate 70 about 30 miles east of St. Louis.

One of the drivers, Gary Kistler, is in critical condition with abdomen wounds at St. Mary's Hospital in Richmond Heights, Mo.

Billings Supports Nixon Positions

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) —The a journalism student who was president of the University of Missouri curators said Friday he supported President Nixon's position on Cambodia, American campuses and general lawlessness.

Judge William H. Billings of Kennett made that statement in a news conference following a brief, routine monthly board meeting.

While he spoke, about 300 students sat in a nearby hallway shouting "strike, strike."

At times the shouts drowned out the voices of speakers in the news conference. But Dr. John C. Weaver, university president, said he did not regard the demonstration as disruptive.

"This meeting may have been uncomfortable, but it hasn't been disrupted," Weaver said. "I feel we can distinguish between the protection of dissent and the prevention of disruption."

"But I cannot see the role of the university here," Weaver added. "We didn't kill anybody at Kent State and we didn't go into Cambodia."

The student demonstrators dispersed quickly after the curators left the building.

Billings said he had sent a telegram of support to President Nixon, expressing his views as a curator, a circuit court judge, and the father of a 3-year-old Marine in Vietnam.

"We all agree it was a tragedy," Billings said of the Kent deaths. "But when dissent passes orderly procedures and gets into violence, that leads to more violence and people are going to get hurt."

Asked what action the university might take on attempted fire bombings earlier this week in Columbia, Billings said any student who broke the law should not expect immunity from the law.

The board, in its meeting, denied the appeals of three students who had been expelled or suspended for their part in a sit-in in February protesting restrictions on interspersation.

The students were Raunond Michael Evers of Plymouth, Wis.,

Two Accused On Charges of Delinquency

NEW MADRID — Marty Lowry, 17, St. Louis, and Hershel Witty, 24, East Prairie, today waived preliminary hearing in magistrate court on a felony charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors. Judge Leo Hedgepeth set $1,000 bond for each when he bound them over to circuit court.

Deputy Sheriff Walter Ivy said the pair were taken into custody Friday at East Prairie. They were accused of picking up two 14-year-old girls Thursday at the Lilbourn school and taking the girls to Cairo for the

The fatal accident occurred 1.2 miles west of route 3 on highway 54, Camden county, when the 1969 Oldsmobile, driven by her husband, William R. Nally, 57, ran off the pavement, swerved back on the road, and again ran off the road overturning several times.

Mrs. Nally was thrown from the car and died instantly, the highway patrol said. Her husband suffered minor injuries which were treated at the Macks Creek Clinic near Camden.

She was born Jan. 4, 1913 in Kentucky. She had lived in Mississippi county 30 years. She was a member of the Wyatt Baptist church and the Amarilla Rebecca lodge in Charleston.

Naval Drive Begins

SAIGON (AP) — A force of 30 U.S. naval boats and 70 South Vietnamese craft launched a drive up the Mekong River today in the first waterborne assault into Cambodia, allied headquarters announced. Within hours, six South Vietnamese gunboats suppressed enemy fire more than half way up the river.

A dispatch from Cambodia said that after enemy sniper fire was silenced, helicopters began unloading South Vietnamese troops near the enemy held ferry crossing at Neak Luong.

At the same time more than 10,000 American and South Vietnamese troops launched three new drives inside Cambodia against enemy bases. Hundreds of American tanks, armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers were committed to the new offensives. The official announcements came one on top of another.

Some 2,500 additional American troops plunged into Cambodia to open an eighth front against North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces, field reports said.

The U.S. Command said elements of the 2nd Brigade of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division made the new thrust, and in a delayed report said hundreds of troops of the 3rd Brigade of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division combined with South Vietnamese civilian irregulars to open a seventh front Thursday.

The field reports said the new operation—with scores of Sheridan tanks and armored personnel carriers, and backed by tactical fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery—was launched about 80 to 90 miles northwest of Saigon, to the west of a massive sweep begun a week ago in the Fishhook area of Cambodia.

Survivors include her husband; her mother, Mrs. Etta Campbell of Piggett, Ark.; three sons, Robert Ray Nally of Charleston, David and Charles Nally, both of Monroe, La.; one daughter, Mrs. Ronnie Butler of Texarkana, Ark.; three brothers, Gardner Campbell of Corning, Ark., Frank Campbell of Wentzville, and Marshall Campbell of Dorena; one sister, Mrs. Perry Poyner of Corning, Ark.; and five grandchildren.

Friends may call at the McMikie Funeral home in Charleston after 4 p.m. today.

Agnew Fills in At Memorial Dedication

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, in a tribute to three Confederate Civil War heroes, called on Americans today to reject "the new slavery" and "the evils of sectionalism."

Pinch-hitting for President Nixon at the dedication of the Stone Mountain memorial, Agnew spoke of a New South that "rejects the old grievances and the old political appeals to the worst in us."

And, in an apparent reference to today's antiwar demonstration in Washington, the vice president said in his prepared remarks:

"Let no one here or abroad mistake disagreement with disunity: We are reminded here today that we have paid too great a price for being one nation to let ourselves now come apart at the seams."

He said "the New South embraces the future and presses forward with a robust economy fueled by industrial development."

Violence Mars Some College Demonstrations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violence marred some demonstrations as protests of President Nixon's Southeast Asia policy continued at colleges across the nation and at Washington, D.C., where thousands rallied for a march today on the White House.

At the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, 11 persons were hospitalized with stab wounds after National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets advanced on 200 student peace protesters. The confrontation followed the arrest by police of 140 sit-in demonstrators who had offered no resistance.

Violent confrontations also occurred in Carbondale, Ill., between police and students from Southern Illinois University; and in Buffalo, N.Y., where 12 youths were wounded by birdshot during a demonstration.

A student from the University of Iowa at Iowa City was subdued by a chemical agent when he tried to wrench shotguns from police officers during police-student scuffles. Two battalions of the National Guard were placed on standby alert. Two students were arrested.

In New York City, about 70 persons were injured when a roving band of 1,000 construction workers, some wielding clubs and crowbars, attacked peace demonstrators in the vicinity of City Hall.

Cambridge, Mass., police chased some 500 rampaging protesters through Harvard Square after a peaceful antiwar rally by 30,000 persons. The rampaging youths broke windows and blocked traffic.

Nixon said Agnew "will answer for anything that he has said" and added he would no more censor his vice president than he would muzzle Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, who recently cautioned Nixon in a personal letter of the dangers of alienating the nation's youth.

At the outset, Nixon said he sent troops into Cambodia for the very reasons that have prompted protesters to march here and across the land.

"I am concerned," he said, "because I know how deeply they feel, but I know that what I have done will accomplish the goals that they want. It will shorten this war. It will reduce American casualties."

"It will allow us to go forward with our withdrawal program. The 150,000 Americans that I announced for withdrawal the next year will come home on schedule. It will in my opinion serve the cause of a just peace in Vietnam."

Nixon Says All U.S. Troops Will Be out of Cambodia by End of June

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told the nation destruction of enemy sanctuaries is going faster than expected and the great majority of American troops will be pulled out of Cambodian territory before mid-June.

All Americans of all kinds, including advisors, will be out of Cambodia by the end of June," he promised flatly Friday night during his first televised news conference since Jan. 30.

In defense of his bitterly controversial decision that launched the invasion of the Cambodian sanctuaries 10 days ago, Nixon said the operation would save hundreds if not thousands of American lives by destruction of enemy arms stores. It will also buy six to eight months of time for building up South Vietnamese forces to take over the war, he said.

Nixon made these other points:

—He plans to "give a report to the nation" when the Cambodian action is completed and at that time will finally assess its accomplishments and risks.

—His withdrawal of another

Violence Mars Some College Demonstrations

150,000 American troops from Vietnam will be completed in a year, as announced April 20. That will reduce the U.S. force remaining to something over 280,000 men. Nixon used the figure 240,000 but later said while some such level might be achieved it was not the stated goal.

—The U.S. delegation will attend the Paris peace talks next week even though the North Vietnamese boycotted last Wednesday's session. Nixon said he has not given up hope for a negotiated settlement.

—In the Middle East "the situation has become ominous" because of reports that Soviet pilots are flying in the Egyptian air force, though not in combat sorties. If the Russian role escalates, Nixon said, it would upset the power balance between Israel and the Arab states and he would have to consider the sale of more jet planes to Jerusalem.

—In negotiations with Moscow to limit strategic nuclear weapons "I will predict now that there will be an agreement," Nixon said, because the United States and Russia have a common interest in curbing the arms race.

While Nixon answered questions in the quiet, crowded East Room of the White House, hundreds of young people, anticipating today's peace demonstration, milled about under the flood lights on the Pennsylvania Avenue sidewalk.

Inside the White House fence a reserve force of white-shirted policemen waited for possible trouble, and the gate was heavily guarded.

Nixon said the South Vietnamese forces engaged in the strike against enemy bases do not have to abide by his schedule for removal of American troops fighting in Cambodia.

But he thought they would come out about the same time.

"The action actually is going faster than we had anticipated," he continued. "The middle of next week the first units, American units, will come out. The end of next week the second group of American units will come out."

"The great majority of all American units will be out by the second week of June, and all Americans of all kinds, including advisors, will be out of Cambodia by the end of June."

By not qualifying this time-table Nixon implied a belief that any counter action the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces might take could not seriously upset the U.S.-South Vietnamese operation.

Budget $20 Million in Red as House Breaks

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — After its two days of work on the 1970-71 budget bills, the Missouri House adjourned for the week with the budget about $20 million in the red.

That was the preliminary estimate of Budget Director John C. Vaughn, based on a check of amendments piled on in the House. The bills in their amended version are not expected to be printed before Monday.

Next week, Rep. Richard J. Rabbitt, D-St. Louis, House majority leader, said the House would try to finish work on the main money bills, then adjourn for two weeks to let the Senate have a crack at them.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, by three days of intensive work this week, got through all of its major hearings. Sen. T.D. McNeal, D-St. Louis, chairman, said the committee would hear the few remaining agencies Monday morning.

One of the week's highlights was the House action in boosting state aid to schools back to the level for the current fiscal year, $234 million.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes recommended only $215.6 million, $18.4 million less than this year and $33.4 million less than the legislature promised last year when it passed a bill calling for a $35 million a year increase over a four-year period.

The governor said his figure was dictated by failure of the income tax revision bill at the April 7 referendum election.

But the House, always responsive to home pressures, put the state aid level back to $234 million and cut off any attempts by Republicans to raise the figure to the promised $269 million.

Minority Republicans were outraged and said the state still hasn't heard the last word in the school aid fight. The crucial vote won't occur until the closing days of the legislature when a bill comes up for the actual transfer of money to fund the school aid appropriation.

Other bills are also moving slowly and at the end of the week reports circulated that Kansas City and St. Louis Democrats plan to team up in an attempt to block the governor's recommendation that the Public Service Commission and the Liquor Control Division be put under the state merit system.

These bills have not yet emerged from committee.

Questions Concerning Youthful Suicide

And How To Prolong Living...

Dear Ann Landers: One of my friends killed himself a few days ago. Nobody can figure out why he did it. He had brains, looks, money. And he was such a nice kid. I just can't believe it. I didn't know him very well, but somehow I feel a terrible sense of guilt. I keep thinking if I had gotten to know him better I might have been able to help him.

The thought of death has always frightened and depressed me, but the death of a 17-year-old boy who had a whole great big, wonderful world ahead of him, is too horrible to contemplate. Why didn't someone recognize that this boy needed help and reach him before it was too late? Maybe my letter won't make any sense but I just had to express my feelings. Thank you for listening. — Port Jervis, N.Y.

Dear P.J.: I have no answers. I can only tell you the vast majority of suicides are committed during periods of black depression, or while the person is under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Suicide is rarely a rational act. One of man's strongest instincts is the will to survive. A visit to any hospital will convince you that there is no desire so intense as man's desire to live.

Dear Ann Landers: This little poem is floating around the office. The Hairy Set won't appreciate it, but old folks like you and me will think it's pretty funny. Print it if you want to. — Titusville.

Dear Titus: I'll overlook your reference to "old folks like you and me." Speak for yourself, Chum. The poem is amusing and I thank you for sending it. Here 'tis:

Remember when hippie meant big in the hips,
And a trip involved travel in cars, planes and ships?

When pot was a vessel for cooking things in
And hooked was what grandmother's rug may have been?

When fix was a verb that meant mend or repair,
And Be-In meant merely existing somewhere?

When neat meant

Shirley Taylor

Dexter Artist Showing At Two Tony's Gallery

Shirley Taylor of Dexter, Missouri has been interested in art all her life, but only started painting in 1965. She is self taught and works in pencil, oil and watercolor. She has only worked in watercolor for about a year. She paints all types of subjects including portraits, landscapes, seascapes, animals, and still life. She paints in the traditional manner. When she has some spare time, she paints with acrylics on rocks, any subject, including faces. They are painted as painstakingly as her regular paintings.

Mrs. Taylor started exhibiting her paintings in 1969, starting with outdoor exhibits at Lutesville, Ste. Genevieve, Van Buren, Dexter and Hermann, Missouri. She has exhibited paintings in art league showings, Sikeston Art League, and the Poplar Bluff Artists Guild, where she won an award in 1969 in the Graphic Arts Division, with a pencil portrait. Shirley has a one man show at the Dexter National Bank in November, 1969. A portrait done by her of Lt. Kenny Sisler, Congressional Medal of Honor winner from Dexter, was displayed for a week last summer at the Dexter National Bank, by her parents, Mr. & Mrs. George Sisler.

Mrs. Taylor has loaned her paintings to the Dexter Central Elementary School as a rotating art exhibit throughout this present school year. Since January, she has been teaching oil painting in her home to school children and adults. She is married to James M. Taylor, who farms and raises Angus cattle. They are the parents of two children, Kyra, 14, and Steve 18. Both children share her interest in art, but they lean more to music. Her basement jumps with jam sessions, and reeks of paint and turpentine with equal ease. She calls it her swinging, t.v., Rembrandt room, where every member of the family does their "own thing" harmoniously.

Her most recent work, a portrait of John R. DeCour, was hung this week in the Dexter Bi-Rite Super Market, where the late Mr. DeCour had been in business for many years. The portrait is owned by his son John L. DeCour, the present owner and manager.

The rotating art exhibit at Two-Tony's Restaurant is sponsored by Sikeston's Council on the Arts, and will feature Mrs. Taylor's work during the month of May. The exhibit may be viewed from 11:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M., Tuesday through Sunday.

In the 24-hour system of telling time, there is no change for the hours before noon: 12 is added to the hours after noon. Four digits are always used to express time in hours and minutes. For example, 3:45 a.m. is 0345; noon is 1200; 7:30 p.m. is 1930. In this system, the letters a.m. and p.m. are omitted.

Florida's tallest waterfall is located at Rainbow Springs and drops 60 feet.

Having worked with many church leaders, Mr. Rogers is loved and his ministry is accepted wherever he goes. He is a talented and conservative servant of God. His ministerial readings and novel instruments are entertaining, but Mr. Rogers has a far greater purpose in his ministry - that of seeing people won to Christ. His great heart cry is to help his own people, and for the past several years he has labored unceasingly in that capacity, having organized 17 new churches and traveled over 50,000 miles a year in the interest of the church.

Mr. Rogers is more than a great singer and musician. He has a definite call to preach and God has richly blessed his ministry in sermon and song. Three songs credited to Mr. Rogers' origin are "I Will Mind God," "Praise God for Full Salvation," and a recent composition entitled "Others."

The service will be held at the First Church of the Nazarene, Scott and Trotter streets, Rev. William G. Ardrey is the pastor.

The POWER of FAITH

WOOD I SHMAEL

IXOYC

Churches are, or should be, sermons in stone.

The symbolism in them can give deeper spiritual meaning to faith.

A unique and beautiful church is the First Presbyterian Church in Stamford, Conn. It is popularly known as the Fish Church for from a distance it appears to be in the shape of a fish.

The fish was the earliest Christian symbol long before the cross became the symbol of the Christian faith. In Greek the first letters of the phrase "Jesus Christ, Son of God, Savior," formed the word for "fish." Early persecuted Christians in Rome used the sign of the fish for recognition and comfort.

Dr. Don Campbell, the minister of the church, says that the interpretation of the symbol came after the fact. It was his idea to have the church designed for good visibility and acoustics. When he saw the architects' drawing he saw in it the fish, on which they then elaborated.

The fish is not the only symbol at the First Presbyterian Church. It is full of inspired symbols and history. In the floor in front of the communion table is a huge stone grinding wheel symbolizing the bread. The cross in the chancel is made of beams from the blitzed library at Canterbury Cathedral in England.

Dr. Campbell says, "History becomes an eternal contemporary and faith is an eternal contemporary."

A FAITH THAT ASKS QUESTIONS

APPEALS COURT JUDGE, Fred Hedrick, blind since childhood, is shown using his braille typewriter. His seeing eye dog, Candy, sits at his side.

Blind at 13, He Became a Judge To Prove He Could Do the Job

By Reese Hart
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina Appeals Court Judge Fred Hedrick looked toward the window of his office and said firmly: "There is not a thing in this world that I can't do — except see!"

Hedrick, who has been blind since age 13, gave up a lucrative lawyer's practice in Statesville, N.C., last year to accept the $26,000-a-year judgeship.

"I wanted more than anything to prove that I could do the job," he said.

A father of four, Hedrick lost his sight when he was chopping wood and a piece flew up and hit him in one eye. An infection developed, spread to the optic nerve, and caused Hedrick to lose sight in both eyes. Now he is able only to distinguish light from dark.

"Perhaps if we had had the wonder drugs of today the doctors might have been able to save my sight," he said.

Hedrick attended the Governor Morehead School for the Blind in Raleigh and graduated from the University of North Carolina with an A.B. degree. He completed his three-year law course at U.N.C. in 2 1/2 years.

"I just worked hard with the help of many others," he said, adding modestly, that "I don't feel I have accomplished anything unusual that a lot of other people couldn't have done. I just hope that my experience might serve to help the 10,000 people in North Carolina who are blind."

Hedrick's constant companion is a seeing eye dog, Candy, a golden retriever he obtained last year. His first seeing eye dog died in 1959 after being with him 10 years.

"My office was near the courthouse in Statesville, so I managed to get around all right without a dog. But I began to get a little thick around the middle and wanted to do more walking," he said.

Hedrick goes horse back riding and fishing, and has sung "at literally hundreds of weddings." He is also a ham operator and talks to lawyers all over the state.

"I have a great interest in sports," he added. "I follow the college basketball and football teams, perhaps too closely."

Hedrick specialized in civil law practice. He served as prosecutor in Iredell County from 1950 to 1958 and was judge of Recorder's Court at Statesville from 1958 until 1969, when Gov. Bob Scott appointed him to the appeals court.

When he was sworn in last year the attorneys in his county came to Raleigh en masse for the ceremony.

Hedrick said he never set any goals for himself after the loss of his sight.

"My philosophy has been to try to do the best that I could in everything I've undertaken. I just hope that what I have done can make the road easier for similarly handicapped persons."

Hero of Santiago Bay Lambasts Booze in Speech

50 Years Ago
May 9, 1920
America is the nation and now is time to save the human race from complete annihilation by alcohol, declared Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson in an address to almost a thousand people at the Sikeston Methodist Church last night. The hero of Santiago Bay, who was here under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of America, told how step by step the temperance forces of America had won the fight over the saloon in this country and the victory had undoubtedly come at a crucial time in the history of the world and that at no other time, either before or in the future, could there have been or could there be such an opportune time to wage a fight for world prohibition as now.

News reached Sikeston Monday of the death of Mrs. B. F. Tanner of Calton, Calif. Mrs. Tanner was well known in this city and vicinity and before her marriage as Miss Edna Hamilton. E. E. Earthur, who has been the local agent for the Waters Pierce Oil Co., for several years, has resigned and was checked out Wednesday. Amos Buchanan, the new agent, was checked in. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur expect to go to Oregon soon to join their sons, Orlando and Earl, who have been there for several months, and will leave for the West about the first of June.

The Scott County Milling Co., last week installed in their office an Elliott-Fisher bookkeeping machine, which is a combination typewriter and adding machine that not only makes entries in the ledger, but also at the time keeps accurate records of the day's balances and makes out a statement of each account.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore Greer and children expect to leave for Charleston June 1, since no suitable house has been found available. Lon Swanner and his street crew have made a number of yellow stripes along the main streets of the city in order to show you where and how to park.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Roberts have purchased the A. Ray Smith property on Matthews street and will move early this coming week. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have returned to California, where they will probably locate permanently. Mrs. Rivers Tanner has vacated the property on Gladys street and is now at the Marshall Myers home on Center street.

Turner Dairies in Full Operation

Turner Dairies, Inc., formerly the Reiss Dairy, is now in full operation. The firm purchased the dairy from Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Standley March 15.

Bob J. Moultrie, Union City, Tenn., is the manager, and will be the only man from the Turner Dairies enterprises, to join the Sikeston firm. All of 24 Reiss Dairy employees were retained.

Heading the Turner Dairies, is P. A. Turner, Covington, Tenn., president and founder, which has eight dairy products suppliers, with two companies at Memphis, one each at Covington, Dyersburg, Tenn., and Huntington, Tenn., Fulton and Paducah both in Kentucky, and at Sikeston.

The Sikeston Dairy was founded by John Reiss in 1926, who continued as its head until his death in 1958. Standley, son-in-law of the founder, who had been manager of the company since 1935, became the new president and continued to head operations until the sale.

Turner was founded in 1935 when it was a one-man operation with a small number of dairy cows, and a one-man delivery service. The company now has 200 employees in the three-state operation.

Turner Dairies will continue to use the Quality Check trademark here. A

Dear Mr. Editor:
The Seniors of Sikeston High School have a problem and would like to get the opinion of your readers. The problem is this: every year, up until 1969, commencement exercises have been held outside on the scenic band shell at the Senior High School. Last year the administration decided to make use of our fabulous, "all-complete line of dairy products will be handled, including the largest variety of ice cream that has ever been sold here.

All milk will be brought here in refrigerated trucks fresh daily. Moultrie will move his family here June 1 after the schools are out. Prior to coming here he was route salesman manager at Fulton.

purpose (?) Field House and have the exercises indoors. Fortunately the Field House was large enough to house the masses of hot, sweaty bodies and cram the Sophomore Band in one corner with the Concert Choirs very neatly packed in the opposite corner completely out of sight and hearing of the interested audience. Besides the favorable climate of the indoors the crowd has a pleasant view of the tops of approximately 300 mortar boards with navy blue tassels wilting in the humidity. Used to attending only basketball games in the Field House, the milling crowd was a great distraction to the entire graduating class. The commencement speakers, who prepared their speeches for days in advance, were totally unheeded by the inconsiderate crowd. The crowd is not entirely to blame, however, due to the fact that a basketball court and basketball goals can only incite actions similar to those of a crowd at a basketball game.

The tradition of having commencement outdoors is very dear to the Seniors of '70. The atmosphere of a pleasant spring evening plus a natural stage and amphitheatre creates a more formal yet nostalgic mood in the graduates and their families.

The Seniors of '70 are willing and able to work or do anything necessary to hold our commencement exercises outside, but we can do this only with the support of our fellow Sikestonians. If any of your readers are interested in helping the Seniors, we ask that they "please" respond by writing to the editor of the Sikeston Daily Standard and Supporting a cause not only for 1970, but for seniors in classes to follow.

Thank you.
Very sincerely yours,
Seniors of Sikeston High School

Weather Will Be Better for Farming

By LEONARD F. HAND
Farm Meteorologist
PORTAGEVILLE — Weather trends continue to shift in a direction more favorable for agricultural operations in the Missouri Bootheel. Patterns for May indicate that temperatures over the month will average above normal, while rainfall is expected to total near normal.

High pressure centers crossing the Mid-Mississippi valley will follow a path from the Pacific Northwest across the upper plains to the Mid-Atlantic coast on a line north of the Bootheel. Cool nights and mild, sunny days are the usual characteristic of Pacific air that has lost moisture in its passage across the Rockies.

The Bermuda high will extend more westward into the Gulf of Mexico than in April and draw warm, moist air over the Mid-South between injections of the less humid Pacific flow. Low pressure centers are expected to favor a path through the Central Great Plains to the Great Lakes Region, well to the north of the Bootheel. Rainfall is more likely to be associated with cold fronts trailing across the region setting off showers and thundershowers. There is still a chance for fronts to stall within range of the Bootheel so that cloudy and showery conditions may persist for a day or two at times. This is the type of development that can be anticipated by watching the 5 day outlooks regularly.

Excessive rains during April will cause some delay in taking advantage of the more favorable patterns anticipated in May. Considerable drying is required before fields can be readied for planting cotton and soybeans. Rainfall totals at weather bureau agricultural stations were: Portageville 6.47 inches, Kennett 7.86 inches, Charleston 8.36 inches, Malden 7.34 inches, We Poplar Bluff 7.63 inches and Sikeston 10.90 inches.

Normal rainfall for the Bootheel as a whole in May is 4.46 inches. Normals for April are 4.46 inches. Normals for May are 4.46 inches. Normals for June are 4.46 inches. Normals for July are 4.46 inches. Normals for August are 4.46 inches. Normals for September are 4.46 inches. Normals for October are 4.46 inches. Normals for November are 4.46 inches. Normals for December are 4.46 inches.

individual cities are: Cape Girardeau 4.80 inches, Dexter 4.59 inches, Morehouse 4.42 inches, Parma 4.70 inches, Sikeston 4.44 inches, Caruthersville 4.24 inches, Doniphan 4.84 inches, New Madrid 4.90 inches, and Poplar Bluff 4.83 inches.

Short term averages for other points: Advance 4.53 inches, Bloomfield 4.77 inches, Clearwater Dam 5.46 inches, Kennett 5.60 inches, Portageville 5.77 inches, Quin 4.61 inches, Bernie 4.67 inches, Charleston 5.26 inches, Deering 3.83 inches, Malden 4.38 inches, Puxico 5.02 inches and Wappapello Dam 4.95 inches.

Long term records show the following averages for May when near normal categories have been observed: Poplar Bluff 3.80 inches, Sikeston 4.28 inches, and Caruthersville 3.24 to 5.10 inches.

Under these conditions the following ranges in measured precipitation were noted: Poplar Bluff 3.27 to 4.59 inches, Sikeston 3.26 to 4.85 inches, and Caruthersville 3.24 to 5.10 inches.

The five day outlooks will offer guidance for farmers ready to cut alfalfa on already wet ground. The two to three days of field drying is most likely to occur in the less humid air following passages of cold fronts. Showers are also most likely to occur in association with these fronts, so particular attention should be directed to the frequency of frontal passages and potential rainfall. Extension recommendations include application of an insecticide to control alfalfa weevil soon after hay is cut the first time. Again, weather factors such as wind and rain should be considered.

Winds will remain a factor in orchard spraying, and showery periods are likely to be preceded by brisk southwesterly flow. We are also more likely to encounter temperatures above 80 degrees with above normal temperature averages indicated over the 4.46 inches. Normals for month. Use of sulphur sprays

WHY I LOVE MY MOM, was won by Debbie Griggs, 10, second from right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Griggs, 421 Powell, Miner. Miner Girl Wins Essay Contest

A Mother's Day essay contest on "Why I Love My Mom," sponsored by five stores, which are Norelco dealers — Shys Drugs, Homestead Distributing Co., Wal-Mart, Crenshaw's, and Wrights Jewelry — was won by Debbie Griggs, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Griggs, 421 Powell, Miner.

She was presented a hair setter by Charles Hayes, manager at Wal-Mart, for the winning letter written on a Wal-Mart entry blank.

Debbie's letter: "I love my mom, because when you ask her stuff you shouldn't know she doesn't blow her stack. When you wade in the water to your waist she just says, Debbie, get out of the water. When she's mad she doesn't take it out on me. I Love my mother."

$11,000 Burglary

At Hayti Store

HAYTI — The Mystique Dress Shop on Highway 84 west in Hayti was the scene Monday night of a second large burglary to occur in Pemiscot County in two weeks. Approximately $11,000 worth of ladies apparel was taken from the dress shop sometime during the night.

Hayti Chief of Police Fred "Fritz" McKay said Tuesday that burglars gained entrance by using some kind of instrument to pry open the back door. Mrs. Gertrude King, owner of the Dress Shop, discovered the burglary when she opened Tuesday morning. Mrs. King had no insurance.

Chief McKay gave a list of items taken from the store. They include: 8 ladies coats, $470; 4 costume coats and dresses, $360; 121 ladies dresses, $8,450; 50 pairs of ladies slacks, $900; and 8 mini skirts, $89. The Police Chief pointed out that other odds and ends were also taken.

"They must have got in a hurry when they left," said Chief McKay, "because they left approximately $1,500 worth of clothing at the back door on the floor."

The Mystique Dress Shop has been at its present location for about 18 months. This is the first burglary to have occurred at this location, however one burglary did occur when the owner had a store in the vicinity of the Hayti square.

Although he didn't want to go into any detail at the present time, Chief McKay said, "We've got several real good leads to work on." Officials were taking fingerprints Monday morning.

On Friday, April 24th, Stanfield's Jewelry Store on Ward Avenue was the scene of a $45,000 burglary. Thousands of dollars worth of diamond rings and watches were taken from the store as burglars cut holes in the roof and peeled a safe in the back of the store where the very expensive merchandise was kept. Nothing has developed on the Stanfield burglary, according to Caruthersville Police officers.
